DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS,
HENRY D. ALLEN, OF UNION COUNTY.

It is about time for Gen. Weyler to say "I told you so."

Our Cuban allies are not panning out a paying quality of patriotism.

While all this fighting is going on we don't hear much about Rear Admiral Kirkland, the ranking officer of the navy.

Since breaking his knee-cap, Wales doubtless fully realizes now the truth of the saying "Un-knee-sy lies the head that wears the crown."

The Spaniards in Cuba are determined not to let the Americans in the Klondike get ahead of them. At Matanzas they are eating dog meat.

Two Cincinnati men were fined $200 for stealing organ pipes. Perhaps there were extenuating circumstances. They may have lived next door to the organ.

Nicholas Fish left Siboney Tuesday on a government transport with the exhumed body of his son, Sergeant Hamilton Fish, Jr., one of the first soldiers killed in Cuba.

Congressman Davidson, in the Eighth district, is not a candidate for re-election. It is expected that John Bennett or Brutus J. Clay will be the Republican opponent of Hon. G. G. Gilbert.

Congressman Sam J. Pugh, the Republican member from the Ninth district, has been unanimously renominated. His Democratic opponent has not yet been selected.

Lieut. Brannersreuther, of the Charleston, raised the stars and stripes over the Ladrones. His name, being the longest thing at hand, was used as a flagpole.

Between claiming the naval victory won by Schley and quarreling with Shafter over the dregs found in the Santiago bottle, and friend Sampson seems to be working himself into a frame of mind.

The average politician generally peers into the future. Congressman Richardson, of Tennessee, announces himself a candidate for the speakership of the next House, if it is Democratic.

The names of the persons who called yesterday to inquire after Albert Wales' knee, filled fifteen pages in a large register. This rush was almost equal to a busy subscription day in the KENTUCKIAN office.

The Third District Republican committee has called a congressional convention to meet at Russellville Sept. 14. Two or three unknowns are candidates, it being conceded in advance that Rhea will be elected.

Although Gen. Toral took several days to confer with his home government before he surrendered, he is to be tried by court martial for exceeding his authority in surrendering the troops not under his immediate command. Blanco, called to task for it, lays it on Toral to clear his own skirts.

M. Zola does not seem to be suffering any serious inconvenience from his sentence in the Dreyfus matter. He has on a visit to Belgium and Norway, after writing to the court officials that he would be back in October to reappear before the judges who sentenced him to a year's imprisonment.

Lieut. Southerland's ship, the Eagle, has again distinguished herself by destroying the Santa Domingo, a Spanish steamship loaded with cattle, on July 12. The affair occurred near Cape Francis and was reported a day or two later, but it was not then known that the Eagle did the work. The vessel and cargo were a total loss.

Bowling Green has a new species of "regulators" who are enforcing a style of clean-shaven faces. The Louisville Times gives these details:

"They have a special antipathy to persons who wear mustaches or beards. Since the regulators have committed their deeds it is only necessary for one of the band to notify a person to shave in a given time. In the event the command is not respected the regulators call on the person in question in a body and shave him themselves."

"Judge Warner E. Settle, Judge Hank B. Hines, Editor Ben Watt, Judge John B. Grider and others who have gloried in their handsome and luxuriant mustaches have suffered at the hands of the 'regulators.' They were each ordered to shave and promptly obeyed."

"Circuit Clerk Will H. Jones, who prizes his mustache highly, resolved to defy the regulators, which he did to his sorrow. After receiving proper notice he still declined to sacrifice his hirsute appendage. The next morning some of the regulators called at his office at the court-house, and with a Barlow knife proceeded to shave one side of the Clerk's mustache. Mr. Jones, although a bear hunter and Indian fighter, was as a babe in the hands of the regulators and was forced to submit to the sacrifice. It was only a short while until he went to a barber shop and had the job completed. Since then Mayor G. E. Townsend, ex-Mayor Mallory, County Clerk Will H. Edley and others have received notice to shave. They immediately complied, and now nearly every prominent man in the city is wearing a clean upper lip."

If the style is considered advantageous in the direction of personal pulchritude, Editor John B. Gaines should not be permitted to escape.

Correspondent Kenneth F. Harris, sends this opinion of the Santiago Cubans:

"When we were on board the Yucatan a visiting naval officer from Sampson's fleet was asked what the Cubans looked like and how they were armed. His reply was: 'They look like the devil and they are armed with anything they can get.' It was a sufficiently accurate description. Nearly all of the insurgents of Santiago de Cuba are negroes, with perhaps a slight infusion of the Spanish blood."

Maj. Gen. Jas. H. Wilson commands the division in which the Kentucky boys will fight at San Juan. He was graduated from West Point in 1860, served through the civil war and resigned from the army in 1870 to enter the railroad business. He was appointed from Delaware at the beginning of the war with Spain. His name is mentioned as the probable Military Governor of Cuba.

Dr. Whitsitt, in resigning the Presidency of the Southern Baptist Seminary made a mistake in one respect. To put his retirement a year ahead insures another twelve months' of discord in the denomination. If Dr. Whitsitt wanted to resign he might have done so gracefully and quit at once.

He Knew a Thing or Two.

They tell a story in Company H, of a prisoner who, on a recent occasion, changed places with his guard under unique circumstances.

The sentry was superintending the digging of a trench by the unfortunate prisoner. The day was warm, so warm in fact that the guard divested himself of his side arms and blouse and rested his rifle against a tree. It grew warmer still, and he who was supposed to keep watch was enticed away by the sight of a bit of cool shade several yards away. He sat down and, as sentries sometimes do, fell asleep. The digger of trenches had, up to this time, been busily at work.

Now a brilliant idea occurred to him. In a moment he had put on the sentry's cast-off regalia and was standing over the sleeping owner of the same, gun in his hand. The guard awoke with a start.

"Taint no use to kick, pard," said the erstwhile prisoner, "you've got to finish the job. You needn't kick or I'll report you for sleeping on duty."

And so it was. Before their turn places were exchanged again and no one was the wiser.

Miss Beulah Harned is visiting in Clarksville.

ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.

He Wedded a Girl of Humble Parentage and Educated Her.

A story is told of Gen. Weyler's marriage. It is said that when he held the rank of lieutenant colonel commanding an important infantry regiment, he met a very beautiful girl of humble parentage and fell in love with her. His affection was returned and he resolved to wed her at all hazards. He did not dare tell his family of his intentions, as he knew they would object not only to her parentage, but also her lack of education.

One day he invited a number of his brother officers to meet him at a certain church door. They were so fond of him that they thought nothing of his request. When they arrived there he explained what he was about to do and gave his reason for keeping the marriage a secret. They witnessed the ceremony and after it was over were much surprised when he asked them to follow him and his bride to a certain convent.

At the door he gave his young wife into the hands of the mother superior and left her. She remained a pupil at the convent for two years before she took her place at her husband's side, which she has since so ably filled.

SPECIFICATIONS.

The Head—Is five and one-half inches high and eight and one-half inches long, inside measurement. This is as high as any family machine made, and must not be confounded with the medium or so-called high-arm machines. The head plate sets into, or level with the table.

The Needle—Is straight, self-acting, flat on one side and cannot be set wrong.

The Shuttle—Is open on the end, cylinder-shaped and absolutely self-threading.

The Bearings—Are all steel, well fitted and adjustable.

Self-threading—The machine is self-threading, and no hole to put the thread through, except the eye of the needle.

The Feed—Is positive in action, and has no springs to get out of order.

Automatic Bobbin Winder—Will wind the bobbin as smooth as on a spool of thread.

The Stitch—Is double lock stitch. The same on both sides and will not unravel. Can be lengthened or shortened from eight to thirty stitches to the inch.

The Tension—Is a flat-spring tension and adjustable to all sizes of thread.

Hand Wheel—Is nickel plated and has a loose wheel attached to operate bobbin-winder without running machine.

The Movement—Is the celebrated eccentric movements, positive in action and fewer working parts than any machine on the market.

The Stand—Has large balance wheel, hangs on two adjustable centers. The treadle is large and hangs in one center and all lost motion can be taken up, asters under each end, and can be easily moved. A nice dress guard over wheel to keep dress from getting on wheel. Attachments—Are the famous Johnson's set, in a tin box, and consists of tucker, ruffler, four hemmers, binder, quilter, foot hemmer and feller, under braider and sheerer, oil can and oil, two screw drivers, six bobbins, paper of needles, thumb screw, gauge, and book of directions.

The Furniture—Is well made highly polished and elegant in appearance. All these machines will be sent out with oak furniture unless walnut is specified. Each machine has a lock to the drawers and cover, nice nickel-plate drop rings to all drawers. All machines are well packed and crated.
